

2nd ANNUAL FOOD PLOT EVENT APRIL 20, 2008

The Second Annual Outdoor Essentials/QDMA Maryland State Chapter Food Plot Event was held on April 20, 2008 and as always, was most informative about food plot installation and working of the ground for food plots as presented by Mali Vujanic of Outdoor Essentials, Joe Brown from Patriot Land and Wildlife Management Services with an awesome plotmaster presentation and more.

However, there was more to this event than just food plots and what put this event over the top for property management along with food plot demonstrations was the forestry management seminars. Matt Sampson from Forestland Group, LLC showed how to plant new trees and how to protect them. His walk through on the existing deer woods was the most informative that I have ever seen in the state! Matt's presentation of mature timber and new timber growth brought property management which is most overlooked aspect up to a new level.

This event would not have been possible without a great location. Denny's property was perfect for this demonstrative event! This location in Cecil County has food plots, mature timber stands, new timber growth and an awesome tractor shed to house the registration, QDMA booth and for sit down food and drinks.

Special thanks to all the people that attended from Virginia, Delaware, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New York and Maryland and all had a great time, and to John Brown Jr. of Boss Productions, filming for QDMA Quality Whitetails Television Show and to Matt Sampson from Forestland Group, LLC for his premier forestry presentation. This event was made possible through the hard work of Mali Vujanic and his Outdoor Essentials team, Denny's great farm location, Brian Nentrup (NE Regional Director-QDMA) for taking pictures and the QDMA Maryland State Chapter consisting of Mike Van Buren, Mr. Charlie and Micky for cooking the Chesapeake Bay Bratwurst and Charlie's pan fried deer meat, Cheri and Cliff who worked the QDMA booth and event registrations.

This event, the first of its kind in Maryland was a huge success and plans for the next one are already in the works. Check back on www.marylandqdma.com for future events like this and more!

Sincerely,
 E.W. Grimes,
 Director/President
 QDMA Maryland State Chapter
